

“Learning and living beyond”

North Hill House has a set of principles, which all staff embrace and aim to integrate into the work they do every day to help young people.

What we try to do	Help children and young people develop skills to succeed and advocate for themselves.
How we do it	With learning opportunities that are individual to each young person. By listening to each young person’s choice and values.
Why we do it	We believe every individual deserves: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Respecting Listening too Sharing with Accepting Belonging

If you have any questions or thoughts about the principles, you can talk to staff or talk about it to your student council member.
